RENNES, Sept. 6.—Maitre Labori yesterday afternoon telegraphed personal appeals to Emperor William and King Humbert to grant permission to Colonel Schwartzkoppen and Colonel Panizzardi, German and Italian military attaches in Paris in 1894, to come to Rennes to tes-tify in the trial of Captain Dreyfus, This is the news of the day and the chief topi of conversation in the cafes and resorts of the journalists this evening. The appeals were conched in eloquent terms invoking the assistance of their majesties in the name of justice and humanity. They are quite supplementary to the formal application that will be made by the government commissary, Major Carriere. The demand of Maitre Labori that the court martial should issue process, sub-

The step is fraught with momentous consequences, as it affords Emperor William; an opportunity again to assume his favorite role of arhiter of the destines of the world. No one will be surprised if Schwartzkoppen, in the name of the kniser, makes a declaration that will practically decide the result of the trial. Both Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi

Colonel Journal told Maitre Demange at the close of the session that if he rerejved official nothication that Colonels

Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi were coming to depose, he would be prepared to adjourn the trial pending their arrival. An adjournment of 45 hours would probably give them time to get here The appearance of Colonels Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi would be the most sensational as well as the most im-portant incident of the entire trial. That a man's worst enemies are sometimes "they of his own household" find apt illustration in the severe conditions which surround, in Heath. their own vessels, the gallant defenders of our flag in southern seas. With the flood of heat poured down by a tropic sun, converting the steel clad decks into sizzling gridirons and the semoured turnets into veritable bakeovens, with the thermometer ranging from 155 to 205 degrees in the fire rooms, where the metal walls, the doors and fittings, the ladders and tools become too hot to touch, it is no wonder that rough, rugged, stalwart to-night. men-men who would stand in a fair fight until killed in their tracks -are unmanned by the cruel ordeal that they cry out in the frenzy of approaching madness.

There are many other agencies at work destroying the strength and stamina not only of our sailors but of men and women in every walk of life. The intense earnestness with which people apply themselves to the problems before them leads to overwork, loss of sleep and rest and improper or insufficient food. The nerve forces are deranged, the energy is wasted, and the vitality is destroyed There is a remedy for overwrought
